

Avon Fire Scene Examination Services Ltd

CV, Malcolm Jenkins

Avon Fire Scene Examination Services Ltd specialise in providing no nonsense fire investigation, delivering clear, accurate answers in a timely manner.

Our principal scene examiner, Malcolm Jenkins is an experienced fire investigator, instructor and assessor, having carried out many hundreds of fire investigations, for both the public and private sectors.

Cases we deal with range from fatal fires to small accidental domestic incidents including arson, large scale high-profile incidents, fires and explosions caused by mechanical defect and industrial process failure. We also undertake defence and cold case review work.

We are experienced in preparing and presenting evidence for use in the criminal justice system. We have an in-depth knowledge of current Fire Safety legislation and enforcing authority procedures. Additionally, we also work closely with a national fire investigation training organisation, providing instruction, plus assessing for the Skills for Justice Awards Level 5 Certificate in Fire Investigation.

Qualifications:

MSc Fire Investigation, Anglia Ruskin 2010

HND Fire Command & Management, UCLAN 2005

Fire and Explosion investigation training, University of Edinburgh, 2004

Graduate Institution of Fire Engineers 2001

NEBOSH General Certificate 1999

Professional body membership:

UK Association of Fire Investigators

Graduate, Institution of Fire Engineers

Chartered Society of Forensic Science

-----

Clear and accurate information when you need it most

